

Chapter 15

Data - World Development Indicators 2010

<http://www.worldbank.org/data>

The World Bank is a vital source of financial and technical assistance to developing countries around the world. We are not a bank in the common sense. We are made up of two unique development institutions owned by 184 member countries—the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (IBRD) and the International Development Association (IDA).

WTO - Welcome to the WTO Website

<http://www.wto.org>

The World Trade Organization (WTO) is the only global international organization dealing with the rules of trade between nations. At its heart are the WTO agreements, negotiated and signed by the bulk of the world's trading nations and ratified in their parliaments. The goal is to help producers of goods and services, exporters, and importers conduct their business.

Welcome to WTTC

<http://www.wttc.org>

The World Travel & Tourism Council (WTTC) is the forum for global business leaders comprising the presidents, chairs and CEOs of 100 of the world's foremost companies. It is the only body representing the private sector in all parts of the Travel & Tourism industry worldwide.

World Development Indicators 2005

<http://devdata.worldbank.org/wdi2005/Section4.htm>

The World Bank is committed to achieving the Millennium Development Goal of halving global poverty by 2015. As the international community measures its progress toward that goal, it must have solid and credible statistics that show where we are advancing and where we are falling behind. This year's World Development Indicators gives policymakers that set of statistics—as a tool it can use in the fight against global poverty.

Involvement of patients and consumers in the Agency's activities: Patients and consumers are the end-users of the medicines that the European Medicines Agency evaluates, so they are key stakeholders with specific knowledge and expertise to offer the Agency.

The Agency is committed to maintaining a strong working relationship with patients and consumers and is interacting with a growing number of patients' and consumers' organisations.

The European Food Safety Authority (EFSA)

<http://www.efsa.europa.eu/>

The European Food Safety Authority (EFSA) is the keystone of European Union (EU) risk assessment regarding food and feed safety. In close collaboration with national authorities and in open consultation with its stakeholders, EFSA provides independent scientific advice and clear communication on existing and emerging risks.
